Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I am a computer system administrator with a professional interest in compatibility issues between computer systems. My name is Jeremy McMillan, and I live at 3537 N. Wilton Ave. Apt. #1, Chicago, IL 60657. I think that the antitrust violation settlement proposals submitted by Microsoft are inadequate, and in some ways counterproductive.

Overly narrow definitions of "API" for disclosure will legally entrench Microsoft's current stranglehold on software development and the omission of restrictions on hardware OEM contract terms leaves Microsoft in more stable monopoly power than before the initial antitrust filings. Please list me as a cosignor of the Dan Kegel comments entitled "Open Letter to DOJ Re: Microsoft Settlement."
